1.	G/615/13.x.1949.	Clause 8 Whether the words "anything done" under any provisions of the repealed orders in clause 8 saves the C. & D orders No.926(1)(F.G.)/II dated 1st February 1949 which was issued under the repealed Foodgrains order of 1948.	1-2

Whenever the intention ~~is~~ is to save notifications orders, rules, forms etc. made under a repealed law, the legislative practice is to refer to them specifically in the re-enacting law. Looking to this legislative practice the Court will hold that the mere expression "anything done" does not cover notifications, orders, rules, forms etc. issued under a repealed law. Clause 8 of the Bombay Food-grains (Regulation of Movement and Sale) Order, 1949, which saves "anything done" under any provisions of the repealed Orders, (which includes the Bombay Food-grains (Regulation of Movement and Sale) Order, 1948, does not, therefore, save the C.S.D. Order No.925 (1)/(F.G.)/II dated the 1st February 1949 which was issued under the repealed Food-grains Order of 1948. It would, therefore, be necessary to issue a similar fresh order under clause 3 of the new food-grains Order of 1949.
